HOW DO WE KNOW WHAT IS RIGHT AND WRONG?

Many say you know its right when it does not harm others – it's all in how you feel, that inner voice of conscience - some follow the Ten Commandments as their guide. What is right and wrong changes with community attitudes - once wrong a lie is now well accepted, but pages of legal contracts not handshakes result, because our word is no longer our bond! But are changing attitudes an excuse for wrong being preferred to right. Doing right often 'makes me look weak' – such as being kind and considerate, saying sorry, and asking forgiveness. Jesus said love God and love others as you love yourself and you will do right. Make the other person, and their interests more important than your own. Let your handshake be your bond. Enjoy the difference and win friends and influence people again! David Rodway.
