THE PERFECTIONIST

That's not good enough... you can do better than that! Some of us live with those words – nine out of ten was never congratulated, rather it became a lesson on the need to improve. We were so drilled in doing better, 'perfect' distorted our life – not only are we hard to live with, but too cautious to experiment, and often happier being the spectator. The enjoyment of 'having a go' was lost in fear of failure and criticism. Jesus said if you say you are perfect (without sin) you deceive yourself, and are untruthful. Elsewhere he said come to me if you are working hard with imperfect results and I will give you rest. Take this mind-set on board and he will guide you in life. If you fail, he will forgive you. His perfect love removes all fear. That's new beginnings!
David Rodway.
